Agenda Item No. 8(H)(3)

Subject: Agreement with Fairchild Tropical Botanic Garden, Inc. to Provide Biological Monitoring Program Services for Miami-Dade Natural Area Preserves

Recommendation

It is recommended that the Board authorize the execution of an agreement with Fairchild Tropical Botanic Garden, Inc. (FTBG) to provide Biological Monitoring Program services for Miami-Dade County natural area preserves. This agreement is in the best interest of the County and will continue the effective management of natural area preserves which include more than 80 properties totaling in excess of 25,000 acres with over 100 endangered plant species.

Scope

Fairchild Tropical Botanic Garden is located at 10901 Old Cutler Road, Coral Gables, FL 33156 in Commission District 7, Commissioner Xavier L. Suarez; however, the services provided under the agreement are for nature preserves located throughout the County.

Fiscal Impact/Funding Source

This agreement (Attachment A) is for two years in an amount not to exceed $120,000.00. The terms of the agreement provide for FTBG to receive up to $60,000.00 for FY 2014 and $60,000.00 in FY 2015. Funding will be provided through the Miami-Dade Parks, Recreation and Open Spaces Department (PROS) General Fund Index Code PREOUT347801.

Track Record/Monitor

The proposed agreement will be administered by PROS through its Natural Areas Management Division Manager, Joe Maguire.

Background

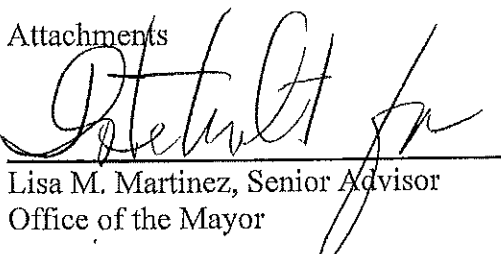

The Biological Monitoring Program has a county-wide scope in that it provides monitoring of native habitats and rare plants in more than 80 nature preserves located throughout Miami-Dade County. The current agreement with FTBG approved under Resolution R-808-07 (Attachment B), has resulted in many significant discoveries and accomplishments. FTBG coordinated the preparation of a comprehensive Natural Areas Management Plan, completed and published a study on the impacts of the exotic Natal Grass on native pine rockland habitat, analyzed 10 years of wildland fire records, discovered numerous new populations of critically imperiled plants, collected, grew and outplanted more than a dozen species to augment dwindling wild populations, and monitored and mapped populations of more than 25 critically imperiled plant species.

FTBG is an internationally renowned botanical garden that provides a unique combination of experience and resources for this project. Under the proposed contract, FTBG will continue to implement the Biological Monitoring Program for plant conservation, and assist in updating adaptive habitat restoration plans that will include community and species level goals, restoration priorities, and measurable objectives. Additionally, FTBG will design monitoring programs for plants of critical importance, fire effects of plants and habitats, and measuring impacts of public recreation on native habitats. FTBG will devote one part-time staff person to the monitoring program.

On July 23, 2002, the Board approved Resolution No. R-841-02 approving the execution of a five year agreement with FTBG for development and implementation of a Biological Monitoring Program for the County's natural area preserves. That agreement expired on August 5, 2007. The Biological Monitoring Program continued under the Board approved Resolution No. R-808-07 on July 10, 2007. This five year contract was funded by the Environmentally Endangered Lands Program (EEL), Management Trust Fund. This agreement expired on September 8, 2012 and was extended for one year with the approval of the Mayor. The extension will expire on September 8, 2013. The attached agreement has a two year term to match available PROS funding so as not to overextend the contract without having identified funding in place and EEL funding is currently unavailable. Based on the agreement amount of less than $250,000.00, a waiver of formal bid is not required as in previous agreements.

The County has a long history of successful collaborations with FTBG on the monitoring of nature preserves. In 1989, FTBG and the County entered into a Conservation Partnership whereby FTBG assisted in developing management plans for numerous park preserve areas. In the wake of Hurricane Andrew, the County contracted with FTBG (R-1556-93) to develop a GIS-based remote sensing program that allowed Parks' resource managers to identify non-native plant invasions. This monitoring system was useful in tracking large-scale vegetation patterns in post-hurricane vegetation management.

WITNESSETH

WHEREAS, PROS is responsible for the management of more than 80 natural area preserves covering more than 25,000 acres that contain various native plant communities with populations of invasive exotic and rare native plants; and

WHEREAS, the restoration of these natural areas requires the integration of applied management and monitoring to ensure ecosystem sustainability; and

WHEREAS, the County wishes to continue the monitoring program it began through Agreement with Fairchild in 2002; and

WHEREAS, Fairchild recognizes the imperative for conserving the flora of Miami-Dade and wishes to undertake these responsibilities subject to the terms and conditions set forth below; and

2. Assist preserve managers with tasks including plant identification, restoration activities, accompanying visiting researchers, and other on-site activities as needed.
3. Collect native plant propagules to grow plants for (a) County restoration projects, (b) long-term seed storage at the National Center for Genetic Resources Preservation, and (c) ex situ conservation collections at Fairchild.

4. An annual review to include management and monitoring results, progress review, and work plan for the next year.
- B. In order to accomplish the above, Fairchild shall, within thirty (30) days of the execution of this Agreement by both parties, provide the County the name and resume of a Project Manager employed by Fairchild that will be assigned to work on the Biological Monitoring Program. Work under this agreement will be limited to that which the Fairchild Project Manager or her designee can carry out during 24 weeks per year for two years. The parties understand and agree that the Project Manager will be required to devote a portion of this part-time work at Fairchild and not in the field.

Subject: Waiver of Formal Bid Procedures to Execute an Agreement with Fairchild Tropical Botanic Garden, Inc. to Provide Biological Monitoring Program Services for Miami-Dade Natural Area Preserves

Recommendation

It is recommended that the Board waive formal bid procedures and the provisions of Administrative Order 3-38 and authorize the execution of an agreement with Fairchild Tropical Botanic Garden, Inc. (FTBG) to provide Biological Monitoring Program services for Miami-Dade County natural area preserves. This agreement is in the best interest of the County and will continue the effective management of natural area preserves which include more than 80 properties totaling in excess of 16,000 acres with over 100 endangered plant species.

Scope

The Biological Monitoring Program has a county-wide scope in that it provides monitoring of native habitats and rare plants in more than 80 nature preserves located throughout Miami-Dade County.

Fiscal Impact/Funding Source

This agreement is for five years in an amount not to exceed $777,575. The terms of the agreement provide for FTBG to receive up to $129,158 for FY 2008; thereafter, the cost for services would increase no more than 5% per year. Funding will be provided through the Department of Environmental Resource Management (DERM), Environmental Endangered Lands Program (EEL), Management Trust Fund.

Track Record/Monitor

On July 23, 2002, the Board approved Resolution No. R-841-02 authorizing waiver of formal bid procedures and approving the execution of a five year agreement with FTGB for development and implementation of a Biological Monitoring Program for the County's natural area preserves. That agreement will expire on August 5, 2007.

The Park and Recreation Department (PRD) and EEL have a long history of successful collaborations with FTBG on the monitoring of nature preserves. In 1989, FTGB and the County entered into a Conservation Partnership whereby FTGB assisted in developing management plans for numerous park preserve areas. In the wake of Hurricane Andrew, the County contracted with FTGB (R-1556-93) to develop a GIS-based remote sensing program that allowed PRD resource managers to identify non-native plant invasions. This monitoring system was useful in tracking large-scale vegetation patterns in post-hurricane vegetation management.

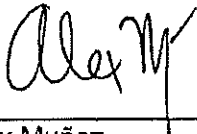

The proposed agreement will be monitored and administered by PRD through its Natural Areas Management Division.

Background

The current agreement with FTBG has resulted in many significant discoveries and accomplishments. FTBG coordinated the preparation of a comprehensive Natural Areas Management Plan, completed and published a study on the impacts of the exotic Natal Grass on native pine rockland habitat, analyzed 10 years of wildland fire records, discovered numerous new populations of critically imperiled plants, collected, grew and outplanted more than a dozen species to augment dwindling wild populations, and monitored and mapped populations of more than 25 critically imperiled plant species.

FTBG is an internationally renowned botanical garden that provides a unique combination of experience and resources for this project. Under the proposed contract, FTBG will continue to implement the Biological Monitoring Program for plant conservation, and assist in updating adaptive habitat restoration plans that will include community and species level goals, restoration priorities, and measurable objectives. Additionally, FTBG will design monitoring programs for plants of critical importance, fire effects of plants and habitats, and measuring impacts of public recreation on native habitats. FTBG will devote one full-time staff person and one part-time assistant to the monitoring program.

habitat management concerns and objectives outlined in the Natural Areas Management Plan. These may include, but are not limited to: invasive species, plant/herbivore interactions, plant/pollinator interactions, fire effects, and the impact of public access and recreational use on natural areas.

3. An annual review to include management and monitoring results, progress review, and work plan for the next year.
- C. In order to accomplish the above, Fairchild shall, within thirty (30) days of the execution of this Agreement by both parties, provide the County the name and resume of a Project Manager employed by Fairchild that will be assigned full-time to the Biological Monitoring Program. The Project Manager will not be replaced without prior approval of the County. Work under this agreement will be limited to that which the Fairchild Project Manager can carry out during 1 (one) F.T.E. (full-time equivalent) per year and 1 (one) P.T.E. (part-time equivalent) positions. The parties understand and agree that the Project Manager will be required to devote a portion of this full-time work at Fairchild and not in the field.
- D. For the purposes of this Agreement, the term "Project" shall include all of Fairchild's duties and responsibilities required to perform the work and accomplish the results described in Subsection A, B and C of this Section.

SECTION 2. COMPENSATION TO FAIRCHILD

A. Definitions

"Project costs" shall be defined as the wages and benefits of the Project Manager, travel expenses, materials for Fairchild's Geographic Information Systems Lab (GIS Lab), ESRI contract, attendance at relevant scientific meetings, field and office supplies, data storage, batteries, software, cell phone charges, books, journals and printing.

"Administrative costs" shall be defined as overhead charge equal to fifty-one (51%) percent of the wages and benefits of the Project Manager and all other Fairchild employees working directly on the Project based on the percentage of time devoted directly to the Project. The contract overhead rate is applied to the project's direct salaries and benefits and is based on indirect costs consisting exclusively of salaries and related benefits of individuals working in the accounting, personnel and other administrative areas of the organization. This indirect cost rate was submitted and negotiated with the National Science Foundation, a Federal agency, under contract dated September 1, 2005, following the guidelines in OMB Circular A-133.

"Other Specified Costs" may be used for any purpose required for the performance of this agreement, including but not limited to subcontractors and FTBG personnel, provided that the expenditure has received prior specific authorization by the County in writing via email and the amount does not exceed $70,000 over the life of this agreement.

- B. In consideration of Fairchild's services to be rendered pursuant to this Agreement, County shall pay project costs, administrative costs, and other specified costs as defined above, which sum shall be paid on a cost reimbursable basis in accordance with the cost schedule attached hereto as "Exhibit A." For each additional year of the term, the project costs may be increased by an amount equal to five percent (5%) of the previous year's Project Costs.
- C. Fairchild shall invoice the County through Parks on a twice-annual basis. Invoices shall be directed to Park & Recreation Department, Natural Areas Management Division, 22200 SW 137th Avenue, Miami, Florida, 33170. The County shall pay to Fairchild its Project Costs as evidenced by documentation specified in section 3D. Backup documentation can be kept on file at Fairchild. A semi-annual summary shall be submitted by the Fairchild Project Manager with each invoice. The County shall pay Fairchild's invoices within thirty (30) days of delivery of the invoice and summary to Parks.
- D. Fairchild shall maintain accurate and complete books, records and documents such as vouchers, bills, invoices, receipts, cancelled checks, and contracts, sufficient to reflect properly all receipts and expenditures of funds for the purposes expressed herein. The system of accounting will be in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, consistently applied. MEMORANDUM

Agenda Item No. 6(L)(1)(A)

TO: Honorable Chairperson and Members
Board of County Commissioners

DATE: July 23, 2002

FROM: Steve Shiver
County Manager

SUBJECT: Agreement with Fairchild Tropical Garden, Inc. for the Development and Implementation of a Biological Monitoring Program

RECOMMENDATION

It is recommended that the Board approve the attached resolution authorizing a waiver of formal bid procedures and execution of an Agreement with Fairchild Tropical Garden, Inc. for the development and implementation of a Biological Monitoring Program for Miami-Dade County Natural Area Preserves. This Agreement is for five years in an amount not to exceed $55,197 the first year with annual project costs increasing no more than 5% each year. Funding will be provided through the Department of Environmental Resource Management, Environmental Endangered Lands Program and the Park and Recreation Department Natural Areas Management Division.

BACKGROUND

Miami-Dade County's natural areas includes more than 75 upland preserves totaling in excess of 2,400 acres. These preserves include the only remaining scrub communities in the County, globally-imperiled pine rockland forest, and state-imperiled rockland hammock which contain over 100 endangered plant species. The development and implementation of a biological monitoring program is essential for the successful management of these natural areas. Fairchild Tropical Garden has an in-depth familiarity with the natural areas of Miami-Dade County and provides a unique combination of experience and resources for this project.

In 1989, Fairchild collaborated with the County in managing its natural areas through a Conservation Partnership whereby Fairchild assisted in developing management plans for numerous park preserve areas. In the wake of Hurricane Andrew, the County contracted with Fairchild to develop a Geographic Information System (GIS) remote sensing program that allowed park resource managers to identify non-native plant invasions (Resolution No R-1556-93). This monitoring system was useful in tracking large-scale vegetation patterns in post-hurricane vegetation management.

Fairchild is currently conducting botanical research in a number of areas that are aligned with the objectives of the County's natural areas management program including South Florida Plants and their Environments (SFPE) and "Caribbean Biodiversity". Staff with Fairchild has staff expertise in technology-based, remote sensing GIS and GPS (Global Positioning System) that will complement and enhance the Biological Monitoring Program. In addition to the GIS Lab, Fairchild also maintains other state of the art facilities including a structure/function lab, virtual and physical herbaria, nursery, and seed biology lab.

Currently, the most severe non-native plant invasions in the forest preserves have been controlled and the preserves are being maintained. Resource managers in the Parks Department and DERM are now focusing on other important restoration challenges in the preserve system including endangered species recovery, fire management, hydrologic restoration, and secondary non-native plant invasions. We need a monitoring program that addresses species and habitat level inventory and mapping at both the habitat and species level along with research and experimentation that is focused on specific restoration objectives.

Pursuant to the provisions of this agreement, Fairchild will develop a Biological Monitoring Program for plant conservation with a five-year implementation schedule that will assist the County in developing and updating adaptive habitat restoration plans, including community and species level goals, restoration priorities, and measurable objectives; and assist in organizing and managing the County's site-management databases. One full-time staff person from Fairchild will be devoted to the monitoring program.

AGREEMENT

THIS AGREEMENT, is made and entered into this 17 day of April, 2002 by and between MIAMI-DADE COUNTY, a political subdivision of the State of Florida, referred to herein as the "the County" through its PARK AND RECREATION DEPARTMENT ("Parks") and its DEPARTMENT OF ENVIRONMENTAL RESOURCES MANAGEMENT (DERM) and FAIRCHILD TROPICAL GARDEN, INC., a non-profit organization, whose address is: 10901 Old Cutler Road, Coral Gables (Miami), Florida, 33156, herein referred to as "Fairchild," and

WITNESSETH

WHEREAS, Parks and DERM are responsible for the management of more than 80 natural area preserves covering more than 10,000 acres that contain various native plant communities with populations of invasive exotic and rare native plants; and

WHEREAS, the restoration of these natural areas requires the integration of applied management and monitoring to ensure ecosystem sustainability; and

WHEREAS, the County wishes to develop and implement this monitoring program through this Agreement with Fairchild; and

WHEREAS, Fairchild wishes to undertake these responsibilities subject to the terms and conditions set forth below; and

NOW THEREFORE, the parties agree as follows:

SECTION 1. BIOLOGICAL MONITORING PROGRAM

- A. Fairchild agrees to assist the County in developing and updating adaptive habitat restoration plans that will include community and species level goals, restoration priorities, and measurable objectives. Communities will include pine rockland, hardwood hammock, coastal dune and strand, and others as time permits. Plans for pine rockland, hammock, coastal dune, scrub and strand are to be completed within six months of execution of this agreement. Plans for additional habitats may be developed as time permits. The County agrees to provide Fairchild with existing management plans, technical staff support, and inventory data to assist in this collaborative effort.
- B. Fairchild agrees to assist the County in organizing and managing its site management databases for those communities described in Section 1A. This shall be accomplished within one year of execution of this agreement. Both parties agree to provide existing site management data, GIS data, site and species inventory data, and a summary of past and current research occurring in its preserves.

C. Fairchild agrees to develop a Biological Monitoring Program for plant conservation with a five-year implementation schedule within one year of execution of this Agreement to provide the following:

1. Species level goals, objectives, and action plans for rare native and exotic plants. Species will be selected and prioritized by both parties.
2. Monitoring procedures and schedules to collect, map and analyze pertinent data based on the priorities established in the habitat management plans.
3. Collection, analysis of field data, and compilation of reports and timely technical feedback to County land managers relating to the habitat management objectives.
4. An annual review of management and monitoring results, re-evaluation of objectives, and development of annual management and monitoring work plans.

The Project Manager will not be replaced without prior approval of the County. Work under this agreement will be limited to that which the Fairchild Project Manager can carry out during 1 (one) F.T.E. (full-time equivalent) per year. The parties understand and agree that the Project Manager will be required to devote a portion of this full-time work in the GIS Lab and not in the field.

E. For the purposes of this Agreement, the term "Project" shall include all of Fairchild's duties and responsibilities required to perform the work and accomplish the results described in Subsection A, B and C of this Section.

MEMORANDUM

Agenda Item No. 3(A)(76)

TO Honorable Chairperson and Members
Board of County Commissioners

Joaquin G. Avino

FROM Joaquin G. Avino, P.E., P.L.S.
County Manager

DATE December 14, 1993

SUBJECT Agreement with Fairchild Tropical Garden, Inc.

RECOMMENDATION

It is recommended the Board approve a waiver of formal bid procedures, provisions of Administrative Order 3-2, and an agreement with Fairchild Tropical Garden, Inc. to develop a biological monitoring system for the post-hurricane recovery of County park natural areas utilizing remote sensing technology, Geographic Information System (GIS) and Global Positioning System (GPS), integrated into Dade County's GIS/GPS. This agreement will be for a three-year period in an amount not to exceed $125,000.

This item was approved by the Parks, Recreation and Arts Committee on November 22, 1993.

BACKGROUND

Both the Park and Recreation Department and Fairchild sustained major biological damage from Hurricane Andrew. The affected land requires major restoration of the natural and landscaped plant communities. Subsequent to the hurricane, the Department applied for and received a $5.447 million grant from the State Post-Hurricane Trust Fund to recover its natural areas. The Department budgeted $125,000 within the grant application for establishing a technology-based, remote sensing GIS/GPS Biological Monitoring System, including obtaining the professional expertise required to design and implement the system.

A technology-based monitoring system is considered the most cost-effective, timely, and accurate method to accomplish land management monitoring goals and objectives. The GIS component is a computer mapping system developing layers of information; the GPS component, operated through satellites, provides a location method of plotting particular points, e.g., plants or boundaries. This monitoring system would enable the Department, with great accuracy, to inventory and monitor biological conditions conduct assessments of the effectiveness of recovery efforts, and identify and monitor other natural and manmade occurrences, e.g., beach erosion. Furthermore, inventories of plants, structures, and boundaries provide historical data for future storms allowing quick post-storm response.

At this time, it is recommended that the Board approve an agreement with Fairchild Tropical Garden to develop a remote sensing GIS/GPS Biological Monitoring System for the Park and Recreation Department. This action is in the best interest of the County because Fairchild provides a unique combination of experience and resources for this particular project.

Fairchild and the Department have had a working relationship for over 50 years, wherein Fairchild has acquired an in-depth familiarity with the Department's natural areas. Fairchild, a nonprofit agency, has provided the Department with biological, scientific and technical advice and support to inventory, research and monitor park natural areas. In 1989, the two organizations entered into a Conservation Partnership whereby Fairchild assisted the Department in developing natural areas management plans. This experience can be coupled with Fairchild already having staff with expertise in technology-based biological inventorying and monitoring systems since Fairchild is currently in the process of developing a GIS/GPS biological monitoring system. The Fairchild staff will be critical to the selection of the appropriate equipment and other technical resources to assure that the Department's system is developed properly.

Fairchild will be acquiring additional technical consulting and equipment resources through the Environmental Remote Sensing Center, Institute for Environmental Studies, University of Wisconsin, a pioneer in restoration ecology utilizing remote sensing GIS/GPS. The Center is recognized as a worldwide leader of technology-based restoration. This expertise has direct application to the Department's post-hurricane natural areas recovery goals.

Of the total $125,000, Fairchild will receive $15,000 for administration, with the remaining $110,000 being used for system development and implementation. All equipment, materials, supplies, studies, and related documents purchased with monitoring monies through this agreement will be the property of the Department.

Subject: Extension of Agreement between Miami-Dade County and Fairchild
Tropical Botanic Garden

On September 8th, 2007, Miami-Dade County and Fairchild Tropical Botanic Garden (FTBG) entered into a five year agreement wherein FTBG is providing biological monitoring services to the County. That agreement will expire on September 8th, 2012. The County would like FTBG to continue these services as they are vital to the effective management of more than 80 nature preserves totaling over 25,000 acres. According to the existing agreement, extensions are to be approved by the County Mayor or Mayor's designee and do not require Board of County Commissioners (BCC) approval. The fiscal year 2013 budget total cost will not exceed $127,947.26. From the $127,947.26, the Parks, Recreation and Open Spaces Department will be funding $60,000 from General Fund Subsidy and $67,947.26 will be funded by the Environmental Endangered Lands Program.

The current agreement with FTBG has resulted in many significant discoveries and accomplishments. FTBG coordinated the preparation of a comprehensive Natural Areas Management Plan, completed and published a study on the impacts of the exotic Natal Grass on native pine rockland habitat, analyzed 10 years of wildland fire records, discovered numerous new populations of critically imperiled plants, collected, grew and outplanted more than a dozen species to augment dwindling wild populations, and monitored and mapped populations of more than 25 critically imperiled plant species. FTGB is an internationally renowned botanical garden that provides a unique combination of experience and resources for this project. FTBG has designed monitoring programs for plants of critical importance, fire effects of plants and habitats, and measuring impacts of public recreation on native habitats.

The contract has been reviewed and approved by the County Attorney's Office.
